

UniKL MIIT welcomes 920 new students for October intake

KUALA LUMPUR: Universiti Kuala Lumpur Malaysian Institute of Information Technology (UniKL MIIT) has officially welcomed 920 new students for the October 2024 academic session.

This intake shows a growing interest in the university's Higher Technical Vocational Education and Training (HTVET) programmes, particularly in the fields of information technology and multimedia.

UniKL MIIT dean Assoc Prof Dr Mohd Nizam Husen attributed the increase in enrolment to heightened awareness of the importance of technical and vocational skills in meeting current industry demands.

With the rapid advancement of technology, the HTVET programmes at UniKL MIIT equip students with the knowledge and skills necessary to tackle the challenges in the job market, he said.

"We offer modern facilities and integrated learning opportunities to ensure our students are well-prepared to become leaders in the information technology sector."

In highlighting UniKL MIIT's commitment to providing high-quality education and a holistic learning experience, Mohd

Nizam hoped more students would join these programmes and become part of the UniKL MIIT community.

The HTVET programmes at UniKL MIIT feature a wide range of courses, including programming, cybersecurity and application development, all designed to meet industry needs.

A series of orientation activities have also been organised to help new students transition smoothly into campus life, along with to familiarise them with their academic journey and ease their adaptation to the university environment.
